From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Mon, 4/20/2015 7:31:07 AM
Subject: In today's FT: EU urged to act as moremigrants drown, Deutsche Ban...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Monday April 20 2015

UK HOMEPAGE

EU urged to act as more migrants drown

Civil war in Libya has turned it into the main hub for human traffickers

Deutsche Bank prepares to spin off Postbank

Strategic review set to unwind €6bn deal done during financial crisis

Professional firms weigh on productivity

Output growth at lawyers, accountants and management consultants stalls

VIDEO

3 Numbers with Lex: Oil production

Three oil factors are afoot: US shale oil production may be at a peak, oil prices are rallying and Saudi Arabia is ramping up production. Lex's Alan Livsey analyses this and what happens when the Saudis open their spigots again.

US HOMEPAGE

Dollar's rise casts shadow on US earnings

Driver of equity market rests on how multinationals weather currency headwinds

$5.9bn deal fuels hot property M&A market

Prologis builds on industrial real estate portfolio with KTR bid

Greece told to bring reforms to ‘fruition’

Lagarde warns new Syriza government its honeymoon period with creditors is closing

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Centre takes most seats in Finland poll

Second place for populist True Finns could herald hard line on Greek talks

Comcast and TWC address antitrust fears

Cable groups in crucial meeting with DoJ to keep $45bn deal on track

Google overhauls search rankings

Experts dub algorithm shift ‘Mobilegeddon’ predicting groups will suffer

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Rakuten expands into Chinese online rebates

Carmakers prepare for China deceleration

Foreign auto groups adapt to ‘new normal’ of slower growth in world’s biggest car market

Beijing acts again to boost growth

China central bank cuts RRR to free up lending

WORLD NEWS

France criticises Putin on Iranian stance

Laurent Fabius says supplying anti-missile weapons to Iran strengthens opposition to nuclear deal

German wage rises lift recovery hopes

A string of pay deals could boost spending but some fear it will inhibit competitiveness

FTSE 250 dividends rise 20%

Housing group Bellway among mid-caps to have avoided headwinds faced by larger UK peers

Brussels plans to shake up telecoms market

Reforms will fuel accusations that the EU favours European operators over US peers

Marathon data show gender patterns

Women display far higher variance in pace than men

COMPANIES NEWS

Nomad Foods to buy Birds Eye owner Iglo

Private equity group Permira to retain 9% stake in frozen food group

Cargill guards private life in 150th year

Sixth generation looks to balance family ownership with growth

Non-Chinese companies warm to renminbi

Multinationals expected to more than double number of renminbi transactions over next five years

A cautionary tale of second-class shares

The value of a company must be shared with all, writes Christopher Rossbach

Cameron intervenes in Gabon oil dispute

The UK prime minister has written to President Ali Bongo Ondimba after oil assets were expropriated

COMMENT

Obama's welcome Kissinger realism

The essence of diplomacy: when adversaries come to terms, neither gets everything they want

Greek default necessary but Grexit is not

Defaulting on the IMF and ECB is the only route to short-term relief but nobody has ever done it

Collective innumeracy adds up to a problem

MPs dismal counting skills cast fear over their ability to manage big budgets, writes Anjana Ahuja

'Hubris', by Meghnad Desai

The author's explanation of the great recession is a complex blend of unorthodox economic doctrines

How to deal with a child like Greece

Just as parents differ on how to calm their offspring, Europeans cannot agree on how to treat Greece

MANAGEMENT

Ren Jianxin, ChemChina chairman

The boss of the Chinese state-owned chemicals giant will soon be in charge of Pirelli too

A 30-year work anniversary is rare

If Warren Buffett or Carol Loomis can spend decades at one company, why not others too?

Touch wood for greater happiness at work

Office designers are drawing on the soothing effects of nature to create happier workplaces

Feedback: Driven to distraction

Readers agreed that the siren call of social media holds back even the most proficient multitasker

Manage email | Forward this email | Feedback | Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2015

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.